A Rumored Railroad Trust.

Special to the GAZETTE.]

CHICAGO, Oct. 16.—A morning paper prints a story to the effect that C. P. Huntington has effected a gigantic railroad trust or combination. The story is to the effect that the Southern Pacific magnate has succeeded in bringing under one management, the Washoe, Chicago Milwaukee and St. Paul, Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe, Denver and Rio Grande, Denver and Rio Grande Western, Missouri Pacific and Southern Pacific roads; the whole comprising a mileage of over twenty-seven thousand miles. In pursuance of this plan, it was alleged that J. C. Stubbs was transferred from the Southern Pacific to the Milwaukee and St. Paul road, where he was to be practically be at the head of the gigantic scheme. P. D. Armour, one of the Directors of the Milwaukee and St. Paul, says he has heard nothing of such a scheme, and does not believe there is anything in it.

President Miller of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul road pronounces the story of the big railroad combine a pure windy humbug.

North Dakota.

FARGO, N. D., Oct. 15.—Governor Mellette has sent copies of the Constitution of North and South Dakota to President Harrison, and after the latter has gone through the formality of examining them to see whether they come within the provisions of the Enabling Act and do not conflict with the Constitution of the United States, he will issue a proclamation declaring North Dakota and South Dakota full-fledged States, which will complete the process of their admission into the Union. Similar action will be taken with respect to Montana and Washington.

It is expected that the President's proclamation will be issued about the 30th of October.

A NOVEL INDUSTRY.

By Associated Press.]

A Poultry, Fish and Frog Ranch all Together.
The Galt (Cal.) Gazette says: Don Ray of Galt is putting in shape one of the handsomest little farms to be found in Sacramento county. The land is situated southeast of town on the rich alluvial lands of Dry creek, and is probably the most fertile little spot in all this section. It is the purpose of the owner to establish an experimental station of his own, something after the fashion of those established by the United States Government all over the country. While we have called this farm a little one, yet it contains nearly forty acres of land, and would be considered a good-sized ranch in many of the Eastern States and a large one in the countries of Europe.

Poultry raising on the most modern principles will be given special attention. It is also proposed to raise fish in artificial ponds on the ranch, and one of the principal industries will be the raising of frogs for table use in a large reservoir specially provided for this purpose. Frogs pay better and fetch more money in the San Francisco market than any other commodity that we can now think of. Of course, there is such a thing as glutting the market in the frog business, but it is not everybody that knows just how to successfully raise this special species of the frog family. Mr. Ray will engage the services of a French scientist who is away up in the frog business to manage this particular branch of industry on his model farm.

Execution of Drager and Olsen—the Lowell Murderers.

Mental Condition of George Francis Train—Mormonism in Norway.

Two Men Hanged.

Special to the GAZETTE.]

PLACERVILLE, Cal., Oct. 16.—William Drager and John Olsen were hanged here at seven o'clock this morning for participation in the murder of John Lowell in March, 1888, for which crime J. H. Meyers suffered the death penalty last November. Lowell's body was found in an old cellar on a ranch, and the murderers were traced through some horses which they had stolen and had taken to Sacramento to sell. They were all convicted over a year ago, but before his execution, Meyer's made an affidavit that he alone designed the murder and shot Lowell before the others were aware of his intentions. An appeal was taken in the cases of Drager and Olsen, but the judgment was affirmed. A great effort was then made to obtain executive clemency, but the Governor refused to interfere. The men were early this morning and walked to the gallows unassisted. Both bore bravely, though Olsen was dead pale. They made a few remarks, thanking the jail officials and others for their kindness to them. The trap dropped at 7:05 and the men died without a struggle. The necks of both men were broken by the fall.

Norwegian Mormons.

By Associated Press.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—Gerhard Gade, United States Consul at Christiania, Norway, has sent the following dispatch to the State Department: "At a semi-annual conference lately held in this city by Mormon residents it was reported the aggregate number of Mormons in Norway was 740, 120 of whom belong to their clergy, but of the latter twelve are leaders, residing in Utah, but working here as missionaries for a short time. During the past four months 36 were baptized, and 66, including children, have emigrated to Utah. Last year 70 emigrated, but the Mormons emigrating this year will become more numerous, as a large emigration will take place next month. The passage money of the Norwegians is already settled in most cases. In this country the Mormons have nine stations, viz.: Christiansia, where they count 363 members; in Drammen, province of Hordaland; in Turkestad, Fredricksholm, Arndal, Bergen, Droushheim and Tramsø. The first station, at Brevik, was established in 1852.

Unable to Keep Quiet.

Special to the GAZETTE.]

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 15.—At the General Assembly of the Democratic Societies of Pennsylvania to-day a letter was read from ex-President Cleveland commending the objects of the societies.

The letter says: The condition of political affairs is such that the attention of all true Democrats should be directed to the enforcement of distinctive principles; and in my opinion this is no time for search after makeshifts and temporary expedients. We as a party are fairly enlisted in the cause of the people, and patriotism, duty and party success require that we should be consistent and steadfast.

Cordially Received.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—The diplomatic reception room of the State Department presented a scene of unusual brilliancy this morning when Secretary Blaine received the delegates to the International Marine Conference. The members are noble-looking men, arrayed in naval gold lace of every prominent maritime nation of the world. The delegates were accompanied by the ministers of their respective countries. The reception was private. The delegates were presented to Blaine by their respective ministers and each received a cordial greeting.

After all had been received individually, Blaine addressed them collectively. He expressed gratification at the general response to the United States' call to this convention. He welcomed them to a deliberation upon subjects whose importance was growing with the rapidly increasing intercourse between the nations, touching upon the value of making an unspoken language to be understood by nations of all languages in their commercial safety precautions on the high seas. Admiral Franklin of the U. S. Navy was then chosen President and an adjournment was taken till to-morrow. The body was then photographed and taken thence to the White House and presented to the President, who made a brief address of welcome after the members had been presented to him, and expressed the opinion that their deliberations would result in much good to the world.

She had murdered the children and attempted to kill herself, but it is believed she will recover. A dull case knife was used. She was divorced from her husband, O. R. Scholl, three years ago, having the possession of her children awarded her. Recently he commenced a suit to gain the custody of the children, and this was the cause of the crime.

M. E. WARD,

It is to be regretted that the farmers on the Carson river and the Union Mill and Mining Company could not see their way clear to settle their differences without resort to law. It will be a long, expensive lawsuit and unsatisfactory at best, but it seems from the statement made by F. G. Newlands before the meeting of farmers held at Genoa that the mill company would not be satisfied with anything less than a perpetual flow of 6,000 inches at the Cradlebaugh bridge, seven or eight miles above Carson; but that they, the mill company, would allow the farmers to use the water for the next two years to the 15th day of July of each year, and they, the mill company, will further agree to invest a sum of money, say $25,000, $50,000 or $75,000, to construct storage reservoirs if the ranchers will put in a like sum, but that the farmers must relinquish all their rights, title and interest, if they have any, to the perpetual flow of the 6,000 inches, to flow through a waste gate at Cradlebaugh bridge.

The proposition was a hard one to accept, if the farmers believe they have acquired any right to the water, for it seems like almost ruin to their property under the present condition of things for them to let 6,000 inches of water go to a point below them, which would take all there is in the stream in a dry year and leave them without one drop. But whether they will be any better off after the millions of the law have combed their fingers through their shaggy locks remains to be seen.

The mountain region where the three States of Kentucky, Tennessee and Virginia touch each other has been awakened from its drowsy peace by the entrance of the locomotive. The great tunnel through Cumberland Gap has been pierced, and in a few weeks will be completed for the passage of trains, and the natural pass over the mountains which for centuries has formed the highway for local commerce and has echoed with the tramp of armies will soon form the route of many railway trains between the Middle Southern States and the Atlantic seaboard.

RAPID transit, in fact, is still in its infancy, so far as cities are concerned. The elevated roads in New York seem to create greater dissatisfaction with the progress of time. They are unsightly, and the noise and dirt they make are constant sources of complaint. Of all the systems the cable lines seem the most promising. Even cities of moderate population are now introducing them, and it seems not unlikely that in the future they will, for a time at least, almost entirely displace the horse cars.

THE total exports of iron and steel to this country from Great Britain for August of this year amounted to 49,876 tons, as compared with 49,895 tons for the same month in 1888. The disparity between the two is so slight as to render them practically equal. The combined value of the different classes of iron and steel exports to this country so far this year is estimated at nearly $20,000,000, and for 1888, about $300,000 less.

THE two-cent fare law having gone into effect in Michigan the railways of that State have decided to make no more special rates for fairs, conventions, and other gatherings to which heretofore the rates of one and one-third fare, or one fare for the round trip, have heretofore been granted.

It is reported that a rubber trust is being organized in Boston, with a capital stock of $30,000,000. Among the concerns said to be interested are the Boston Rubber Company, Para Rubber Company, American Rubber Company, and the Woonsocket (R. I.) Rubber Company.

THE Brazilian Government will subsidize two European lines, one Santos and Hamburg via Lisbon, the other Santos and Genoa via Marseilles. The contract is for fifteen years, $150,000 per year, with a minimum of twelve round trips each year.

FACTS ABOUT RUGS.

Where and How the Best and Costliest Are Made.

According to a Chicago Importer Carpets Are Being Discarded by Wealthy People for Oriental Rugs—Facts for Housewives.

"It is only a question of time," said one of Chicago's most extensive importers to a Times reporter, "when carpets will be discarded by all people of means and their place taken by rugs. Rugs combine the excellencies of elegance and durability to so much greater an extent than carpets," he continued, "that they recommend themselves to all who have money to buy handsome and desirable appointments. A good rug not only lasts for generations and is always far more artistic and effective for the floor, but it can at any time be gathered up, carried out of doors, and shaken. A carpet, however fine, wears but a few years at most. When it is once stretched on the floor it must stay there until the recurrence of each dreary house-cleaning epoch.

"Rugs in the greatest demand now are, of course, the oriental, made either in Turkey or Russia. They are all hand-woven. The occupation of rug-making, an important industry in these countries, is followed by both men and women. Certain patterns and designs have been handed down in families from parent to child from a time back of reckoning. The durability of the rug is due in great measure to the dying of the material from which it is manufactured. No destroying chemicals are used in the preparation of the dyes, the coloring substances being all vegetable. To use aniline dyes is, in fact, a capital offense, and a man or woman is executed for this crime with as little compunction as if guilty of atrocious murder.

"Rugs take their trade names from the province in which they are made. There's the Afghan, Blandhor, Candahor, Khorasan and the Mirzapoor, which, by the way, is made of a sea fiber, so soft and flexible and closely resembling wool that none but an expert can detect the difference; it is almost indestructible, and wears gives it a sheen like satin. There are the Koonah, Persian, Savaler, Ahloowaid, Ouchak and Cabul, all valuable rugs, with a recognized place in the market. The Delhi is a high-priced rug, but it is now very scarce.

"There are excellent rugs of American manufacture, made in imitation of the Oriental, but they do not possess the wearing qualities of the latter, which are dyed with vegetable coloring and hand-woven. Good rugs range in price from $7.50 to $1,500. They are used not only for the floor, but also for divan and table covers and for hangings. Very fine and rare specimens are now placed in handsome fret-work frames and hung the same as pictures.

"The silk 'Afghan' is a particularly handsome rug. It is not made of silk, but of the finest wool, possessing the gloss of silk. It will last for generations, and the longer it is used the more beautiful it becomes. The peculiar sheen of the much-sought prayer rug is the result of long usage. The agents who are employed in the rug-producing districts are always on the lookout for some Moslem who has become sufficiently degenerate or impoverished to commit the sacrilege of selling his prayer rug to the unbeliever. Prayer rugs find their way by some means, too, out of the mosques into the hands of the dealers.

"Only long experience in handling rugs enables a person to judge of their value and decide where they are made. There is no other method to guard against imposition and deception in the rug trade than the use of judgment. Unlike carpet manufacturers, oriental rug makers are unknown and irresponsible. The workers of the East manufacture the rugs in their own homes, either contracting with agents for their sale or disposing of them haphazard as any chance buyer may come along. Newly made and inferior rugs are often sold to the inexperienced purchaser as old and of great value.

"The genuine oriental rug, to which long usage has imparted the indescribable gloss that only comes by age and service, always commands a high price. It is never woven. It is impossible to find one of a wide weave. None but narrow rugs come from the eastern looms. The people of the Orient laid them only in the center of the apartment. Upon either side were still narrower rugs, similar in width to our stair strips. At the head of the room always sat the host. The guests were seated down the length of the middle rug. At the foot the servants stood, waiting for orders. When serving the guests they passed up and down back of them on the narrow rugs. One end of the wider oriental rugs of by-gone manufacture will always be found to be much more worn than the others. The nap has been pressed down by the feet of the servants who patiently awaited the commands of the master.

"Those who are replacing carpets by fine rugs are storing up a legacy for their grandchildren of the fourth and fifth generations, and far beyond that. There are rugs in existence that were woven in the far East a thousand years ago. The modern rug manufactured in the same localities is identical with them in texture, pattern and coloring, with the exception that the hues of these ancient specimens have been toned to wonderful softness of tint as the centuries passed them by. A thousand or 1,500, or even 2,000, years from now the fine rugs that adorn so many elegant mansions in the United States may have place in the museums of the land or be held in possession by descendants of their present owners who will proudly reckon a long line of free-born American ancestry."

Stories of Two Signs. As I was passing up E street yesterday afternoon with a hypercritical friend, says the Washington Post, he called attention to a pair of signs in the windows of an eating-house. One of them read "Ladies' Restaurant," the other "Children's Cafe." He said: "Now, why don't that fellow be a little grammatical and say 'Children's Cafe'?" That put me in mind of a somewhat similar blunder made a few years ago by an eminent member of the English Royal Society, whose name I forget. Erasmus Wiman, the millionaire head clerk of R. G. Dun & Co., presented $50,000 to his native city of Toronto, Ont., for free swimming baths. The grateful burg labeled the baths in letters six feet long in honor of the donor. When the Royal Society visited Canada a few years ago the afore-mentioned, but name forgotten member of it stated in one of his "impressions" published in an English journal as an evidence of a lack of culture among the Canucks that they spell "women's baths" "Wiman's baths." He gravely said he saw it.

Joking Dublin Audiences. Innumerable are the stories of the rough but biting humor of Dublin audiences. Mr. Sims Reeves says that foreign performers did not understand and could not like it. The Dublin gallery did as it liked with their names. Pagliero was addressed as Paddy Leary, and once, when playing Edgardo, some one called out: "Is that Mr. Leary singing or is it the gas scowling?" To Pagliero succeeded Damcke. The audience called him Donkey. "You haven't got the key, Mr. Donkey," responded the all parts and Damcke had to retire. It is fair to say that a Dublin audience is not rude to foreigners only. There is scarcely any native performer of any eminence who has not been the victim of some humiliating joke.

Death of an Old Lawyer.

Samuel P. Gibson, a graduate of Bowdoin College in 1844, and one of the oldest members of the Maine Bar, died at Bethel, Oct. 6. He was a Captain during the Rebellion and a California 49er.

The New Discovery.

You have heard your friends and neighbors talking about it. You may yourself be one of the many who know from personal experience just how good a thing it is. I you have ever tried it, you are one of its staunch friends, because the wonderful thing about it is, that when once given a trial, Dr. King's New Discovery ever after holds a place in the house. If you have never used it and should be afflicted with a cough, cold, or any Throat, Lung or Chest trouble, secure a bottle at once and give it a fair trial. A Hale Old Man.

Wilson of Allens Springs, Ill., who is over sixty years of age, says: "I have in my time tried a great many medicines, some of excellent quality; but never before did I find any that would so completely do all that this Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It is truly a wonderful medicine." For sale by Osburn & Shoemaker.

Is Best There Is.

A new typewriter has been invented by the party who invented half of the Remington and all of the Calligraph. It has no ribbon, no wooden bars, but is all steel, prints true and without any blur. It costs an even hundred dollars, and is worth two of any other machine. It prints better, wears longer, is easier to learn and works faster, besides other recommendations. C. A. Bragg, Agent.

A Sound Legal Opinion.

E. Bainbridge, Munday Reg. County Atty., Clay Co., Texas, says: "I have used Electric Bitters with most happy results. My brother, was also very low with Malaria Fever and Jaundice, but was cured by the timely use of this medicine. Am satisfied Electric Bitters saved his life."

Mr. D. L. Wilcoxson of Horse Cave, Ky., adds a like testimony, saying: "He positively believes he would have died had it not been for Electric Bitters."

This great remedy will ward off, as well as cure all Malarial Diseases, and for all Kidney, Liver and Stomach disorders, is unequalled. Price, 50c and $1 at Hodgkinson's.

Parents should be careful that their children do not contract colds during the fall and early winter months. Such colds weaken the lungs and air passages, making the child much more likely to contract other colds during the winter. It is this succession of colds that causes catarrh and bronchitis or paves the way for consumption. Should a cold be contracted, how no time but cure it as quickly as possible. A fifty cent bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy will cure any cold in a few days and leave the respiratory organs strong and healthy. For sale by Osburn & Shoemaker.

HUMBOLDT ITEMS.

Stock Shipment—Express Office Closed—An Old Mine.

The Winnemucca Silver State of the 15th inst. says: A train load of cattle belonging to Ed Mullaney and Hock Mason was shipped from here to Wadsworth yesterday. They will be driven from Wadsworth to Mason Valley.

Frank Rockwell of Wells, Fargo & Co.'s Express closed the express office in Paradise yesterday. The drought has caused a general stagnation in business matters in the valley and there was not express business enough to pay for running the office. With the Paradise Valley mine paying a d plenty of water for agricultural purposes, of course the office will be opened again.

George Wortman says the Arizona mine at Unionville is looking well and the vein carries about nine inches of black sulphuretted ore worth several hundred dollars per ton. The mine is now being worked through a tunnel from the opposite side of the mountain from which J. C. Fall operated. It is now owned by Wheeler & Booth of Sacramento. Old miners, who are familiar with the Arizona, express the belief that it will be as productive again as it was years ago. The vein is generally flat and lies in a metamorphic lime-stone formation, which extends to the head of Anderson creek, about three miles from Unionville.

PERSONAL.

Harry Davis of the Arcade went below last evening.

Pierce Evans, who is at Tacoma, is expected home in a few days.

Surveyor-General Jones arrived from Carson last evening and left this morning for Eureka.

Thomas Hogan, the Central Pacific fireman who recently became insane, was brought here last evening. His brother and uncle left Chicago yesterday, and will arrive here Friday to take him home.

San Francisco Meat Market.

Fears as to scarcity of beef this winter are said to be entirely unfounded. At the moment the market is well furnished. Mutton is in moderate receipt, while there is no surplus of lamb. Pork is easy all round. Following are the rates for whole carcasses from slaughterers to dealers: BEEF—First quality, 40c; second quality, 35c; third quality, 30c. VEAL—Quotable at 50c for large and 45c for small. MUTTON—Quotable at 60c for large and 55c for small. LAMB—Quotable at 80c for large and 75c for small. PORK—Live hogs, on foot, grass fed, medium, 40c; heavy, 45c; soft, 40c; dressed hogs, 7 1/2c for 1 lb.

Not at all Frightened.

The Modoc Independent says: The report that cattle in this county were offered for a mere song induced at least two men to take a trip to this county, only to find out that it was a false report, and that cattle owners are not half so badly frightened as has been reported. We heard one man say that the Sheriff might sell him out, but he was not going to part with his cattle at present prices.

Money Paid Over.

Last evening's Carson Tribune says: The Board of Directors of the Ormsby Agricultural Association paid no attention to the notice filed by the Comstock Baseball Club announcing that they would commence suit against the Directors for the prize offered by the Association for baseball, and yesterday paid the $150 over to John P. Meder, the manager of the Amateur Club. Correct.

The Winters' Stable.

Theodore Winters' runners, which have been making the Eastern circuit during the past season, are expected to arrive here about the 1st of next month, and it is understood they are to be wintered at the grounds of the Nevada State Agricultural Society.

A Change of Time.

The new time-table of the Central Pacific, which goes into effect on the 20th inst., will bring the west-bound mail train here at 10 o'clock at night, and the eastward bound train, No. 3, will run to Wadsworth to breakfast, instead of stopping here.

Asked a Commutation.

District Attorney Bennett, of El Dorado county, Cal., sent two long letters to Governor Waterman, stating the reasons why the two co-conspirators in the murder of Lowell Dräger and Olsen—should have had their sentences commuted.

Cattle Enroute.

A band of beef cattle, numbering between 1,500 and 2,000 head passed Alturas last week. They belong to G. W. Mapes and are being driven from Oregon to Reno.

Claim Your Own.

Ticket No. 25,369, which drew the third prize in the Little Louisiana Lottery, was held by some one in Reno. The holder is entitled to $250.

Don't Like Maine Granite.

The pedestal for the Gen. Robert E. Lee monument to be erected in Richmond, Va., is rapidly approaching completion. The bronze equestrian statue, by the sculptor Mercie, is now being cast in Paris. It is expected that the monument can be unveiled in the latter part of November. The program for the ceremonies includes a military parade, a reunion of confederate veterans, and an address by Col. Richard Anderson. There is much dissatisfaction because the pedestal is built of granite quarried in Maine. It is asserted that it should be of Virginia granite.

A Prosperous Country.

Ellensburg, Wash., views with extreme satisfaction the fact that a new iron furnace and rolling mills are to be built within its corporate limits. Large iron ledges and superior coking coal exist in the neighborhood.

The United States Senate Special Railroad Committee, accompanied by Governor Stanford and party, arrived here last evening about 10 o'clock and left for California this morning at 6:30 o'clock.

WHY THE LEAVES TURN.

It is not the Frost that takes them Change color.

An eminent botanist writes the Field and Forest as follows:

The common and old-fashioned idea is that this red and golden glory we see now is caused by frost. The true and scientific explanation of the causes of the coloring of the leaves would necessitate a long and intricate discussion. Stated briefly and in proper language, those causes are these: The green matter in the tissue of a leaf is composed of two colors, red and blue. When the sap ceases to flow in the fall, and the natural growth of chlorophyll ceases, oxidation of the tissue takes place. Under certain conditions, the green of the leaf turns to red; under different conditions it takes the yellow tint. This difference in color is due to the difference in combination in the original constituents of the green tissue and to the varying conditions of climate, exposure and soil. A dry, cold climate produces more brilliant foliage than one that is damp and warm. This is the reason that our American autumns are so much more gorgeous than those of England. There are several things about leaves that even science cannot explain. For instance, why one of two trees growing side by side, of the same age and having the same exposure, should take on a brilliant red in fall, and the other should turn yellow; or why one branch of a tree should be highly colored and the rest of the tree have only a yellow tint, are questions that are as impossible to answer as why one member of a family should be perfectly well and another fatally.

Almost a Centennaria.

Deborah Powers, the senior partner in the bank of D. Powers & Sons, Lansingburg, N. Y., is the oldest banker in the country, being 99 years of age. She is in full possession of her faculties, and her business shrewdness is as remarkable as it was a generation back. She established and maintains "The Deborah Powers Home for Old Ladies" in Lansingburg.

Likes the Americans.

President Carnot of France is very fond of Americans and is cultivating sedulously the society of our countrymen now in Paris. At his receptions more Americans are to be found than in any drawing-room in Europe.

AN UGLY DISCOVERY.

A Report That Should Be Read. "A recent analysis in Philadelphia by a celebrated chemist of ten popular brands of sarsaparilla disclosed the astonishing fact that these ten samples of blood purifier contained in the aggregate sixteen different minerals, eleven of which were active poisons. Iodine of potash was discovered in every sample, mercury was found in all but two, while arsenic existed in six of the ten brands. Not one brand was the pure article."

A reporter took the above clipping to E. W. Joy, the manufacturer of Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla. Mr. Joy exhibited no surprise. He said druggists knew it. He said "a long ago saw the crying need for a safe and absolutely pure vegetable preparation of Sarsaparilla, hence his was named Joy's vegetable sarsaparilla, because it contained nothing but pure sarsaparilla combined with the purest juices of California vegetables like the like potash sarsaparilla. It does not force impurities through the skin but softens the various secretory organs securing efficient functional derangements and eliminating all impurities through the natural channels."

Monsieur Judge Gresham.

A gentleman in North Carolina, who is a personal friend of Judge Gresham, wrote the Judge a few days ago for a letter of recommendation for a friend who desires an office under Mr. Harrison. Judge Gresham replied: Thus far I have not attempted, directly or indirectly, to interfere in the distribution of Federal patronage. Situated as I am, I think, upon reflection, you will agree that this is the proper course for me to pursue. While I do not feel at liberty to depart from the rule stated, and do not think it would do you any good if I did, I have no doubt that the appointments in your State will be controlled by the local politicians.

Deserves a Reward.

A servant girl at a hotel saved the town of Tomales, Cal., from burning down Sunday night by seizing the dinner bell and in her bare feet and night dress running through the town giving the alarm for a fire in a neighboring barn.

Very Unbecoming.

Lovely tints in the wrong place are left of their claims. A lemon colored countenance—the peculiar endowment of our pig-tailed brethren who "hit the pipe"—is unbecoming.

It suggests bile going astray, and the inference is correct. Pain beneath the ribs and shoulder blades, constipation, dyspepsia, full red tongue and sick headaches supplement this indication of the bilious. For liver complaint and its multitudinous symptoms, Host's Stomach Bitters is an infallible specific. It relaxes the bowels sufficiently, but without gripping or violence. To the secret, obdurate it gives a due impulse, but banishes an excess of that saffron-colored principle from the blood. Sick headaches, sourness of the breath and fur upon the tongue disappear when it is used. It renews digestion, fortifies the system against malaria, counteracts a rheumatic tendency, and remedies inaction of the kidneys.

A Change For the Better.

Change is one of the irremediable and fortunately the change is almost invariably for the better. As an instance of this, St. Patrick's pills are fast taking the place of the old harsh and violent cathartics, because they are milder and produce a pleasant effect, besides they are much more beneficial in removing morbid matter from the system and preventing ague and other malarious diseases. As cathartic and liver pill they are always perfect. For sale by Osburn & Shoemaker.

Advice to Mothers.

MRS. WINDOL'S SOOTHING SYRUP should always be used for children teething. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for diarrhoea. Twenty-five cents a bottle.

LOVE'S TRIUMPH.

Being a New Ending to a Summer Flirtation.

He met her at the mountains. A maiden young and fair.

And, forming her acquaintance, He flirted with her there.

They roamed the hills together, They wandered through the vale

And there he whispered Love's sweet and tender tale.

The maiden did not chide him, She did not say him nay,

But said she'd give an answer To him some future day.

He met her in the city, This maiden young and fair;

Did she receive his greeting With cold and haughty stare?

Did she attempt to pass him, His outstretched hand ignore,

And say, I do not think, sir, We ever met before?

Oh, no, she smiled upon him, Her hand she let him press,

Responded to his greeting With words of friendship.

The maiden knew he loved her, And love the youth did she;

The sales-girl and the barber Will shortly wedded be.

IN DEATH'S PRESENCE.

Sensations of a Man Who Knows His Fate Is Sealed.

A Government Scout Describes His Feelings While Being Used for a Target by a Guerrilla and While Waiting to Be Hanged.

In the summer of 1884, when the rebel guerrillas, Joe Shelby and his band were the terror of Southern Missouri, I was captured by a detachment of them while acting as regimental mail carrier. At a lonely spot on the highway, between the Union videttes and the camp, three men suddenly sprang out of the woods at me. The hour was four o'clock in the afternoon, and as I was within the Union lines I was unsuspecting of danger. Just a minute before the men betrayed themselves a rabbit had crossed the highway ahead of me, and I had drawn my revolver, hoping for a shot. I therefore had it in my hand when the trio made the rush.

One sprang for my horse's head and the other two closed in broadside. I fired and
